

Series 6000

6172

Instruction

Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS)

Education is the best way to prevent the spread of AIDS. Through learning the facts about AIDS, students are better able to make decisions, which will keep them healthy and even save their lives. School district curricula, as appropriate, shall include information on AIDS, both its cause and prevention.

Students will be exempt from instruction on AIDS upon written request of the parent or guardian in accordance with State statute.

Legal Reference: Connecticut General Statutes
10-19(b) AIDS education.

Policy adopted: 5/10/01

Eastford Board of Education